
SECTION HEADING

FBMT 2325: Ethics in this Business of Agriculture

Description

Ethics in this Business of Agriculture explores various ways in which a farm business conducts business and address their proper conduct.

Management Credits

2

Topics to be Covered

1. Elements of business values
2. Strengths and weaknesses of the manager
3. Selection of experts and consultants

Learning Outcomes

1. Develop empathic listening skills to recognize and respect opposing viewpoints
2. Discuss conflict resolution practices in business and community relations
3. Design a public relations plan for the farm business
4. Research proper management and conservation of soil and water resources
5. Assess ethical agricultural production practices
6. Identify and discuss issues impacted by government regulations