

SECTION HEADING

SBMT 1220: Financial Management

Description

In this course the business owner or manager will study product pricing for optimizing business profits, budgeting to monitor business revenues and expenses, and cost control options for the small business. The student will also create a break-even analysis of the business and study the effect of different business decisions using a break-even analysis.

Management Credits

3