

SECTION HEADING

SBMT 2240: Organizational Structure

Description

In this course the business owner or manager will focus on the characteristics of different organizational structures, including sole proprietorship, s-corps, c-corps, partnerships, and limited liability organizations. Students will study advantages and disadvantages of each to determine the appropriate structure for their business.

Management Credits

1