SECTION HEADING

SBMT 2612: Computerization HR Records

Description

This class is designed to develop the skills necessary to establish, run and maintain a computerized human resources record system. It will concentrate on selection and configuration of software, information selection and location, data entry, records and reports, and data verification and protection.

Management Credits

2