
SECTION HEADING

SBMT 2683: Computerized Accounts Receivable

Description

This course covers the process of computerizing business records using accounts receivable software or as part of a complete software package. The student will be able to produce customer invoices, sales receipts, statements, and reports using selected software. The course will focus on setting up, implementing, and maintaining a computerized accounts receivable system for students actively engaging in the ownership and/or management of a small business or new business start-up.

Management Credits

2